I first suspected this when the was released Now, with the new SoundX SMI-1458 release, I feel more confident with this suspicion.. Two more thing I would like to point out about this new electronic drum set First, it looks like SoundX wanted the look of their new edrum set to be a cross between the and the Drumit Five set.. As time go on, more entry level edrum sets are getting more and more unique I believe this is because is now custom manufacturing electronic drum sets based on customer (distributors) request.. It appears that SoundX drums are variants of drum sets, however like the new, this new SoundX edrum set looks to be custom made by Medeli for SoundX.. Here it is, the new SoundX electronic drum set Model #1458 First off, the pictures used here are from an ebay sellers page (). Nooru Varusham Intha Mappillai Yum Ponnuthan Tamil Song Download

I am not 100% sure that it is made by Medeli, but I am willing to put money on it base on the look of the new SoundX drum module and the pedals.. The second thing that I noticed, is the multi pin (DB-25) trigger input port This looks a lot like the drum module.. One more thing of note If you look at the manufactured date on the back of the drum module pictured below, you will notice that it states September 2008. 773a7aa168 Vmix For Mac
